

Dauphine Junior Consulting and Imperial Junior Solutions are proud to announce their recent partnership started last Monday.

As Junior Enterprises both based in the UK we decided to combine our strengths to give you the broadest and highest possible quality levels of service.

The university of Imperial is well-known for performing coding, application, website development, technical translation as well as other technical services. For 37 years now, Dauphine Junior Consulting actively worked to support its clients in the development and enhancement of their businesses.

Therefore, we believe that by combining the diversity and complementarity of our competences, our clients will, from then on, benefit from working in collaboration with highly and widely skilled individuals that are full of innovative ideas. In addition, this event represents a new opportunity for students from both Dauphine and Imperial to exercise their soft and hard skills in conjunction with other students who compile different sets of competences.

Don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions !
